

2019 has been a busy year already! We have had several snow days and late starts. The 6th grade class have all been busy and working hard. So far this year as a class we have read the books: The Bully Book, Three Times Lucky, and going to be starting Walk Two Moons. In math, we have learned about Area and Surface Area, Ratios, Unit Rates and Percentages, Dividing Fractions, and Arithmetic in Base Ten. We still have a few more topics to learn about this year: Expressions and Equations, Rational Numbers, and Data Sets and Distribution. The students have all done a lot of researching and writing. They all had to write a Most Influential Person paper, Persuasive paper, their Wax Museum paper, and we will be starting to research and writing a paper on Greek Mythology.

In February we had the 5th/6th grade Wax Museum. The 6th graders all had to research a person who affected the world along with dress up like their person and present it to the public and the other grades.

In January, 6th grade had three students who attended Honor Band in Sioux City. Those three students all did a great job! From March to the end of the school year we have several activities that the 6th grade class will participate in. We will have eight students go to Buena Vista University and present their Iowa History Day projects. The topics the groups chose this year are: The Dust Bowl, Women's Suffrage, and Iowa Hog Lift. At the end of March, is Grandparents Day. It is always fun to have family members come into the school and see all the students and their hard work. In April, there will be seven of the 6th graders going down to Orange City for Honor Choir. May is always a busy month. We will go to the Living History Farms, Outdoor classroom, and have our 6th grade graduation.
