

Preschool Newsletter

Wow! Where has the year gone? We can't believe it's already December! The preschoolers have been working so hard on their names, letters, and numbers these past few months. They are becoming skilled writers, and great mathematicians!

Every morning the students enjoy dancing to music and STEM time. This is a time where they get to build and explore different materials.

They show us such cool creativity and excitement!

We have been talking a lot about being kind friends and practicing our social skills with others. A great time to put these skills to use is with our "5th Grade Book Buddies". Each week we plan fun activities to do together!

We are excited to see where the next few months lead us and all the growth that they will continue to make, but for now we are off to winter break! 😊
